AMAZING THINGS

BRICK FILMS

Storyboard and animate with our exciting
stop-motion LEGO™ movie activities

Create your own Hollywood-style movie with our Brick Films experience using LEGO™. Attendees get to think creatively, reason systematically and express themselves animating their own stop-motion film, frame by frame, using our collection of over 100,000 LEGO™ bricks.

We've run over 400 team building activities from small companies to household names, as well as at major events and conferences. We help teams work together in a fun, inclusive and creative environment to boost problem solving skills, collaborative spirit, openness and productivity.

The best team building event we've ever done. I always thought you couldn't please that many people but this seemed to have proved otherwise.

The key benefits are:

- Reduce inhibition and rediscover a thirst for learning through play.
- Creative challenges mirror agile project management and product life cycles.
- Create new connections to encourage collaboration and break down barriers.
- Supportive environment to think through and realise ideas.
- Practice with our show and tell approach.
- Theme the activity to bring your business strategy and company culture to life.

ACTIVITY BREAKDOWN

The skills learned during our activities are transferrable back into the workplace. Just take a look:

WRITING A SCRIPT

Teams work together to creatively brainstorm film ideas for a screenplay.

MAKING MODELS

Attendees imagine and innovate to make characters, sets and props using LEGO™ with our expert support.

PROFESSIONAL ANIMATION

We show how to craft their animation with our technology in just two minutes.

SHOWCASING THEIR FILM

Teams explain and showcase their film for everyone to see and everyone gets to take home their amazing creations.
